On the move to get you moving again!

House calls were a thing of the past. At Energy Physical Therapy, we bring the outpatient clinic to you and can maximize your home physical therapy, rehabilitation and exercise program to address your individual needs.

Why choose in-home physical therapy?

- You are treated in the comfort of your own home making you more relaxed and receptive to care
- Because we actually see your home, we can better tailor your daily goals to your environment
- You get continual care and one-to-one attention from our doctor of physical therapy, and are not passed from aid to technician the way you might be at large physical therapy clinics

Our Mission

Energy Physical Therapy LLC is a patient centered, in-home experience that provides functional, purposeful, quality physical therapy in the convenience of your own home. We believe in empowering patients through education, exercise, and manual therapy to achieve individualized goals with the benefit of one-to-one care with a physical therapist.
